WEDNESDAY SVENING, MAY 25

A RELIC OF THE WAR -Gen. William J. Bolton, Norristowo, Pa., was relieved on Sat urdsy, by pateral process, of a bullet which he had carried in his lower jaw and neck for nearly seventeen years, having received it in the battle which followed the famous mine explosion at Petersburg, Vs., on July 30, 1864. The army su geons probed for the bullet, tut could pot find it, and after the wound healed Gen. Bolton d'd not suffer much from it. Recently he experenced sharp pains in his neck, especially during damp weather. On Saturday, while waiting on a customer in his store, he stooped to get something from under the counter, and was instantly taken with a violent fi of coughing, during which the bullet flew out of his mouth. It weighed 273 grains troy.

A REVOLUTIONARY RELIC.-Robert B. Shaw, formerly presiding justice to the County Court of Beckingham county, Va., has a cannon ball weighing eighty pounds, which was thrown into the American lines during the seige and surrender of Cornwaille. It has been a "cherished rele" in the Shaw family for nearly one hundred years, and will be exhibited at the Yorktowa centennial, in October next.
